LACTOPEPTINE.

The most important Remedial Agent ever presented to the Medical Profession for all Diseases arising from Imperfect Nutrition.

Report of the Chemical Analysis made by Professor H. C. Bartlett, Ph. D., F. C. S.

Laboratory, 7, South Square, Gray's Inn, London, W. C. 22nd February, 1876.

I have examined with great care the sample of LACTOPEPTINE submitted to me, and in the investigation I have not merely tested the various digestive principles of which it is composed, but have made the most careful estimate of the accuracy of the proportions in which they should exist as aids to digestion. I have not rested satisfied with any mere chemical analysis, but have submitted the samples of LACTOPEPTINE to the practical tests of ascertaining the amount of digestion they will perform upon various kinds of food, which were artificially maintained at a temperature as nearly as possible that of the body. I have also endeavoured to corroborate these by a great number of direct applications in cases of Dyspepsia. The result of the entire investigation may be condensed in a few words. I find that fifteen grains of LACTOPEPTINE is a sufficient quantity to digest as much hardened fibrin as would be likely to form part of any ordinary meal. With the more easily digestible Albumen and the softer fibrous portions of mixed food, the work done is equally satisfactory. The emulsifying power of LACTOPEPTINE prevents any free fat from appearing on the surface of the digested food, which presence of a pellicle of undigested fat cannot be prevented by taking any of the ordinary preparations of Pepsin. The addition of Diastase is also of great value, as an indisposition to digest starchy foods is one which is more frequently recognizable than is generally believed. Taken in combination, therefore, the various principles contained in LACTOPEPTINE can safely be relied on to assist impaired digestion, so as to enable a sufficiency of good substance to be assimilated in all cases when the natural secretions of digestive principles have been, as is so frequently the case, inadequate to accomplish this essential function of life.

The efficacy of LACTOPEPTINE appears to me, to some extent, to depend upon the dilution of the active principles by a considerable proportion of soluble substance. On this account an apparently larger dose may be prescribed, but in this diluted form its action is more evenly carried out throughout the whole of the food-mass in the stomach, instead of concentrating its action, or rapidly dissolving the first portion, and leaving the rest altogether undigested.

I therefore lay greater emphasis upon the result of my investigations, inasmuch as I have found, that the preparation of LACTOPEPTINE contains within itself all the principles required to promote a healthy digestion.

I am, dear sir, faithfully yours,

H. C. BARTLETT, Ph. D., F. C. S.

PURE DRUGS,
FINE CHEMICALS,
STANDARD PHARMACEUTICALS.

To Druggists :

We beg to call your attention to our extensive stock of Drugs, Medicines, and Druggist's Sundries, for which we solicit your patronage.

We take great care to keep only the purest drugs, which we purchase through one of the most experienced buyers in New York.

Our chemicals are all of the manufacture of the well known firm of Powers & Weightman, of Philadelphia, whose magnificent display at the Centennial, attracted so much attention.

We would call special attention to the superior quality of our own manufacture of Fluid Extracts, Elixirs, Syrups &c.

The manufacture of all our preparations is personally conducted by a member of the firm, and they can be relied upon in every particular.

Our Elixirs and Fluid Extracts have already been largely used, and have given unqualified satisfaction. Our Fluid Extracts are made without heat, by a process which throughly exhausts the Drug. Each fluid ounce accurately represents one troy ounce of the crude material. For a full description of the process we would refer to a paper by Mr. Van Patten, in the report of the Vermont Pharmaceutical Association for 1875, a copy of which will be sent on application.

We will thank our patrons to call the attention of their physicians to our preparations, knowing that they will appreciate their elegant appearance and excellent quality. We will be happy to furnish samples to be given to physicians whenever desired.

We guarantee our preparations to contain exactly the quantities represented, and to be of standard quality in every respect.

In conclusion we would express our thanks for the liberal patronage heretofore bestowed upon us, and we solicit its continuance. Our salesmen will make their regular visits, as usual, and we ask for them your favors promising that all orders shall receive our careful and prompt attention. Any errors or misunderstandings that may arise we are anxious to correct, and wish to be at once notified of them.

Hoping for a long continuance of our pleasant business relations,

We are very truly yours,

MEDICAL REGISTER,

FOR THE YEAR 1877,

Containing a complete list of the Regular Physicians, Dentists and Druggists of the State, with their residences, Post Office Address, dates and source of Degrees, Laws of the State affecting these Professions, and a mass of other useful information concerning them.

EDITED BY

CHARLES P. THAYER, M. D.

BURLINGTON :
FREE PRESS PRINTING HOUSE,
1877.

Entered according to Act of Congress, in the year 1876,
By C. P. THAYER, M. D.,
In the Office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington.

PREFACE.

To furnish the Regular Medical Profession in the State with a reliable directory of its members, and to include in it also as complete a list of Dentists and Druggists as possible, together with other information, statistical and otherwise, of interest to these professions, is the sole object of this book. That there are imperfections in it, inseparable to the first issue of a work of this kind, I am painfully conscious, and I bespeak all the indulgence possible from those who may consult its pages. It has been a work of exceeding difficulty to procure the data contained in it, partly from an indifferent feeling upon the part of the professions and partly from an entire absence of any similar work in the State. To those Physicians who have not responded to the original circular sent out, a second and third have been sent, the latter containing a Postal Card directed, and still I have received no reply. Whether they have died or are only in a state of suspended animation I cannot say; but it is this fact that causes many in the list of Physicians to be recorded without the date and source of their degrees. To those who have responded with their record and their subscriptions, thus encouraging what has almost seemed a discouraging effort, my thanks are due.

As labor occurs in the larger prop rtion of cases between 270 and 290 days from the last menstruation, it is usual to reckon either from the first or last day of this period, taking as the mean 280 days, or a little over nine calendar months. For this approximate calculation the first day of the menstrual period may be used as being more readily ascertained. The table presents at a glance the beginning and end of 280 days for every day of the year. Find the date of menstruation in the upper line of the horizontal column, and the figure below, with the corresponding month, will indicate 280 days. In leap-year, if the period of pregnancy includes February, the time of labor will be one day earlier than that given in the table.

U. S. Army—Medical Service.

Brig. Gen. J. K. Barnes, M. D., Surgeon General, Washington, D. C.

The following memorandum has been issued for the information of persons desirious of entering the Medical Corps of the U. S. Army :—

[EXTRACTS FROM LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES.]

Act of Congress, approved June 30, 1834.

"Sect. 1. Be it enacted, &c., That from and after the passage of this Act, no person shal' receive the appointment of Assistant Surgeon in the Army of the United States, unless he shall have been examined and approved by an Army Medical Board, to consist of not less than three Surgeons or Assistant Surgeons, who shall be designated for that purpose by the Secretary of War ; and no person shall receive the appointment of Surgeon in the Army of the United States, unless he shall have served at least five years as an Assistant Surgeon, and unless, also, he shall have been examined by an Army Medical Board constituted as aforesaid."

Act of Congress, approved July 28, 1866.

"Sect. 17. And be it further enacted, That the Medical Department of the Army shall hereafter consist of one Surgeon General, . . . one Assistant Surgeon General, . . . one Chief Medical Purveyor and four Assistant Medical Purveyors, . . . sixty Surgeons, with the rank, pay, and emoluments of Majors of Cavalry, one hundred and fifty Assistant Surgeons, with the rank, pay, and emoluments of First Lieutenants of Cavalry for the first three years' service, and with the rank, pay, and emoluments of Captains of Cavalry after three years' service." . . .

All candidates for appointment in the Medical Corps must apply to the Hon. Secretary of War for an invitation to appear before the Medical Examining Board. The application must be in the handwriting of the candidate, stating age and birthplace, and be accompanied by testimonials from Professors of the college in which he graduated, or from other physicians of good repute.

Candidates must be between 21 and 28 years of age and graduates of a Medical College having a thorough and complete course of Medical education,—evidence of which must be submitted to the Board before examination.

The morals, habits, and physical and mental qualifications of each candidate will be subjects for careful examination by the Board ; and a favorable report will not be made in any case in which there is a reasonable doubt.

The following will be the general plan of examination :—

1. A short essay, either autobiographical or upon some professional subject,—to be indicated by the Board.

2. Physical examination. This will be rigid, and each candidate will be required to certify "that he labors under no mental or physical infirmity, nor disability of any kind, which can in any way interfere with the most efficient discharge of his duties in any climate."

3. Examination as to general aptitude and education.

4. Written examination on anatomy, physiology, hygiene, surgery, and practice of medicine.

5. Oral examination on each of the above-mentioned subjects, and also on obstetrics, general pathology, chemistry, toxicology, medical jurisprudence, and materia medica.

6. Clinical examination, medical and surgical, at a hospital.

7. Performance of surgical operations on the cadaver.

The Board will deviate from this general plan whenever necessary, in such manner as they deem best to secure the interests of the service.

The Board will report the merits of the candidates in the several branches of the examination, and their relative merit in the whole, according to which, if vacancies exist within two years thereafter, the approved candidates will receive appointments and take rank in the Medical Corps.

An applicant failing at one examination may be allowed a second after one year, but not a third.

No allowance will be made for the expenses of persons undergoing examinination, as this is an indispensable prerequisite to appointment ; but those who are approved and receive appointment will be entitled to transportation on their obeying their first order.

If the result of the examination of a candidate be satisfactory, he will be offered a contract for duty as Acting Assistant Surgeon until such time as he can be appointed or commissioned as Assistant Surgeon.

(Signed) WM. W. BELKNAP,
Secretary of War.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
Washington, February 15, 1870.

U. S. Navy—Medical Service.

J. C. Palmer, M. D., Chief of Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Washington, D. C.

Regulations.

For Admission and Promotion in the Medical Department of the Navy.

It is prescribed by law that no person shall be appointed in this branch of the service who has not been examined and found qualified by a Board of Naval Surgeons, designated by the Secretary of the Navy, and who is not under twenty-one or over twenty-six years of age.

A Board of Naval Surgeons will be assembled annually, at such place as may be indicated by the Department, usually about the close of the lecture season of the colleges, for the examination and selection of candidates for admission into the Medical Corps of the Navy, as well as for the examinations of Assistant Surgeons who may be candidates for promotion.

Application for permission to attend the examination for admission to the Medical Corps of the Navy must be addressed to the Secretary of the Navy, stating the age and residence of the applicant, and be accompanied by respectable testimonials of moral character.

The permission will state the time and place of the meeting of the Board.

The Board rigidly scrutinizes the physical qualifications of each candidate, as well as his mental and professional capacity ; requires competent testimony as to his moral fitness, and reports favorably upon no case admitting of a reasonable doubt, as the health and the lives of the officers and men of the Navy are objects too important to be intrusted to ignorant or incompetent persons. Scholastic acquirements, especially orthography, and grammar, are rigidly inquired into ; and those who know themselves to be deficient upon these points will lose their time and incur useless expense by presenting themselves for examination.

The Board reports the relative merit of the candidates as shown by the examination ; and appointments will be made in the Navy, as vacancies may occur, in the order in which they may be reported by the Board. Although nothing can take the place of professional qualification, a knowledge of modern languages, or of any branch of natural history, especially botany, will, other circumstances being equal, give the candicate possessing them a preference in selection or position.

No qualified candidate will be held over for appointment beyond the year ; if not appointed within that time, it will be necessary for a candidate to be re-examined when he will take position with the class last examined.

Physical examination will precede the professional. No candidate not physicallv qualified for the active duties of the service will be examined professionally. The Board will make a separate report in each case of the physical condition direct to the Department, to be placed on file with testimonials of the candidate.

No allowance is made for the expenses of persons undergoing these examinations, as they are indispensable prerequisites to appointment.

Every physician who shall have been in attendance upon any deceased person, shall leave with the town clerk a certificate containing the name, disease or cause (if known) of such death, within fifteen days after the interment of the deceased. Any such medical attendant who shall neglect or refuse to give the certificate required by this Section, shall, for such offence, pay a fine of three dollars for the use of the town where such offence shall be committed.

Discharge from Insane Asylum.—Laws of 1874. No. 67.

Provides that when the friends or guardian of any insane person confined in any asylum in this State, shall wish to remove the person from the asylum, and the superintendent of the asylum does not deem the person sufficiently restored, two physicians may be selected by such friends or guardian, who with the commissioner of the insane, shall examine such person, and if he or she is not found by them sufficiently restored, said person shall be retained in the asylum until the friends or guardian transfer him or her to another asylum, or other suitable place of confinement.

Deaf, Dumb and Blind.—Chap. 23, G. S.

Provides for the education of the indigent deaf, dumb and blind. It requires the board of civil authority in each town to notify the county clerk on or before the first day of February of each year, the number of deaf dumb and blind, with the pecuniary circumstances of their parents, and whether they are proper subjects to receive aid from the State. The county clerk informs the Governor of the State who is empowered to expend a sum not exceeding five thousand dollars annually for the deaf and dumb, and a sum not exceeding four thousand dollars for the blind. The Deaf and Dumb Asylum at Hartford Conn., and the Blind Asylum at Boston Mass., are the Institutions designated by this State to receive those beneficiaries.

Every person who shall knowingly sell any kind of diseased, corrupted, or unwholesome provisions, whether for meat or for drink, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by fine not exceeding three hundred dollars.

Every person not being authorized by a majority of the selectmen and justices of the peace in any town, who shall willfully dig up, disinter, remove, or convey away any human body, or the remains thereof, interred within this State, or shall knowingly aid in such disinterment, removal, or conveying away, and every person accessory thereto either before or after the fact, shall be punished by imprisonment in the State prison not more than ten years, nor less than three, and by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, nor less than three hundred.

Sec. 8, Provides the same punishment, only the incapacitation is limited to ten years, for any person present as Surgeon at any duel where deadly weapon are used.

Experts.—In order to testify as an expert, the court must be satisfied that the witness is capable by experience and study, and thoroughly acquainted with the subject under discussion. Of course he must expect to be subjected to a rigid cross examination as to the length of time he has practiced, and the advantages he has had, that constitute him familiar with the subject upon which he is to testify. He ought to avoid as much as possible, all technical terms, and give his answers in as few words as possible. On no account should he attempt to be "smart," nor argue with the counsel, for besides being derogatory to the profession he represents, he is sure to get worsted by the counsel, placing him in a very humiliating position Whenever a physician is attending a case, about which he may be called upon to testify at some future time, he should prepare a few notes at the time, as he will be allowed to use them while testifying, and they may refresh his memory.

Inquests.—Title xxx. Chapter 96.

Provides that when any dead body is found under circumstances that would lead to the supposition that it was caused by violence, the selectmen may apply to any justice of the peace in the county to inquire into the cause and manner of death, and he may subpœna witness and take testimony.

And it shall be the duty of the several County Societies to transmit annual statements of their proceedings to the General Society, and it shall be the duty of the Vermont Medical Society to transmit to the several County Societies, statements of their proceedings. in order that the most useful and important information may be communicated."

CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.

HOME FOR DESTITUTE CHILDREN.

BURLINGTON.

Incorporated by the Legislature in 1865, the object being to provide for destitute children a "Home, to supply their necessities, and promote their intellectual, moral and religious improvement, and fit them for situations of usefulness and self-maintainance."

It first commenced its work in a small house in the city, but as soon as it was incorporated and it became known throughout the State, that such an institution was in existence, applications from all parts of the State crowded upon the managers, and it became necessary to secure more commodious quarters, and on the 16th of July 1866, the Board of managers purchased for $7,000. the United States Marine Hospital, a large, fireproof building, built in 1856, at a cost of $40 000, and situated in the southern suburbs of the city and about half a mile distant from the lake.

Even this building was not large enough to accomodate the rapidly increasing wants of the institution, the managers having already been compelled to refuse over four hundred applications for admissions. And one year ago last spring, encouraged by the past, and the promises of friends for the future, they resolved to postpone no longer the enlargement of their building ; and now it is most gratifying to say, that an addition to the former house has been completed, by which one hundred children can be more conveniently and comfortably accomodated than were the forty, the limit of the building before its enlargement.

The plan adopted by the Board was to place a mansard roof upon the original building, which would practically amount to adding to it a third story, and at the same time give it sufficient height for proper architectural effect ; and then by extending wings from it, seventy-two feet each way to the north and south, make it eventually the centre of a building, the total length of which would be one hundred and ninety-five fieet. For the present, only the south wing has been finished. This extension contains in the basement, the kitchen, laundry and wash room, furnished with modern conveniences so necessary to economy in labor, and therefore in the expense of caring for so large a number of inmates. On the first floor is a large and pleasant school room, a library, and a reception room for visitors. The second floor is arranged with commodious and well ventilated dormitories, provided with closets and bath rooms. The attic will be used for drying cloths and storage purposes. An elevator, connecting the laundry with the attic, renders each floor equally accessable, and is especially useful for the distribution of clothing. By this arrangement the original building, which is substantially fire proof, can be devoted to the use of the infant department and the hospital. This addition, and the improvements made upon the original building, have been constructed in a substantial manner, and with a strict regard to the necessities of the Institution. The cost, including the water supply from the City Water Works, amounts to $23,000. Of this sum, $5 000 remains unpaid.

In conclusion, we may add that of the two hundred and seventy-six children who have been taken by the Home since its establishment in 1865, only six have been removed by death ; seventy are at the present time inmates of the charity, fifty of whom are boys; and two hundred have been adopted into good families, where they are being nurtured and trained by those who feel a personal interest in their welfare, and where they will be fitted to become intelligent and useful members of society. This has been accomplished at a total expense, for the ten years, of about $19,000. This, it will be understood, is exclusive of the cost of the premises. To this amount should be added the value of the donations of clothing and provisions which have been given periodically by friends of the charity. The annual average of the actual expense of supporting a child at the Home, is about seventy dollars in money.

When we realize the fact that this small sum per year has provided every thing essential to the health and comfort of the child, including the constant service of capable teachers, and a matron, it can hardly be stated that the Home has not been from the beginning economically conducted.

VERMONT ASYLUM FOR THE INSANE.

BRATTLEBORO.

The institution had its origin in a bequest by Mrs. Annie Marsh, of Hinsdale, New Hampshire, of ten tousand dollars, and was incorporated by the legislature in November, 1834. From the years 1835 to 1843 the State donated, in a series of installments, the sum of twenty-three thousand dollars for the benefit of the institution and by the terms of the act of appropriation passed in 1840 and 1843 (that of 1843 being the last appropriation to aid in building) the state reserved a lien upon the real estate of the corporation, to be enforced whenever the institution should cease to exist for the purposes contemplated in its charter.

The buildings are located about one mile from the depot at the beautiful village of Brattleboro, having in their immediate vicinity grounds and surroundings affording a most satisfactory opportunity for pleasant outside exercise.

The insane poor of the State are admitted here for care and treatment, at a rate of three dollars per week for each patient under its care, the towns from whence the patient comes paying the institution at the above rate, and receiving from the State Treasurer, seventy-five cents a week for each patient. Total number of admissions from August 1st, 1874, to August 1st, 1876, 222. Total number restored to health, 56. Number improved, 69. Not improved, 25. Died, 54.

THE "MARY FLETCHER HOSPITAL."

To the vast obligation under which our city already lies to the beneficient lady whose name heads this article, we chronicle to-day, with profound pleasure and gratification, an addition—an act of royal generosity and far sighted philanthrophy, which will ensure her name and enduring perpetuity and a happy and fragrant memory. Miss Mary Fletcher has decided to establish here a public hospital bearing her name, and has set apart for that purpose the princely sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars -- $50,000 for a building fund and $100,000 to be invested for a permanent endowment for the institution. A bill incorporating the hospital has passed the House of Representatives, and the gift will be embodied in the necessary deed as soon as it becomes a law. The directors, nine in number, are named in the bill, and are: Dr. Walter Carpenter.; President M. H. Buckham; Senator Justin S. Morrill; Hon. John W. Stewart; Hon. Paris Fletcher, of Bridport; Dr. George L Peaslee, of Maine; the Rev. L. G. Ware; S. M. Pope, Esq.; Hon. Torrey E. Wales. These gentlemen will have control of the fund and of the hospital It will be the only institution of the kind in Vermont; and with so commodious a building as will undoubtedly be erected, so large an endowment fund, and so competent a board of managers it can not fail to be a great public blessing.

The heartfelt thanks of the community are due to Miss Fletcher for her magnificent gift, and she will receive the gratitude not only of the present but of the future generations.

The directors have decided to purchase for the hospital the H. W. Catlin place, on Colchester avenue. The price paid for it we understand to be $25,000, and the transfer of the property will take place as soon as the signatures of some of the distant parties to the deed are obtained. The property comprises thirty acres of choice land, with garden, orchards, lawn, groves, and pasture land, and the site is one of the very finest in Burlington. We think the directors could not have made a better selection; and they and all concerned are to be congratulated in securing so desirable a spot for the new institution. It is understood that the Catlin house, erected many years ago, if we mistake not by the late Moses Catlin, will be taken down; and the new hospital building erected on, or nearly on, its site.

OBITUARIES.

JOSEPH PERKINS, A. M., M. D.

Joseph Perkins, A. M., M. D., who died of congestion of the lungs, at Castleton Vt,, Jan. 6, 1872, was born in the town of Bridgewater, Vt., April 1, 1798 The writer of this notice was the attending physician, in his last sickness. Doctors Carpenter of Burlington and Woodward of Brandon were called as council. Dr. Perkins came to Castleton in 1818, and here pursued the study of medicine for three years in the office of the late Selah Gridley, M. D. Prior to this he had studied medicine two years with Prof Jos. A. Gallup, M. D., in Woodstock, Vt. He graduated at the Vermont Academy of Medicine, [Castleton,] in 1821, and was one of the many distinguished men who have gone out from that time honored institution. He at once began the practice of medicine in Castleton, and for more than fifty years was one of the ablest physicians in the State. For twenty years he was closely connected with Castleton Medital College as Professor of Materia Medica, Obstetrics, and president of the board of trustees, and by his personal efforts contributed largely to the success of the college. Subsequent to this and for eleven years he was Professor of Obstetrics in the medical college at Burlington, and aided materially in the establishment of that vigorous and successful institution. He was also one of the founders of the Vermont State Medical Society and was its efficient president for several years. As a member of the Corporation of Castleton Seminary he was ever ready with careful advice and liberal donations to aid the cause of education and the general welfare of society. In 1837 he received the honarary degree of A. M., from Middlebury College and was a frequent contributor to the funds of that University. Naturally endowed with more than ordinary physical ability and mental capacity, joined with a disposition to improve every moment of his wakeful hours in the cultivation of his powers to their highest degree of usefulness, enabled him with the blessing of God, to meet, with a marked degree of success the many cares and grave responsibilities that attended his busy career. Energy, method, practical thought and action were decided characteristics of his life. As a gentleman; he was ever corteous and obliging. As a scholar; he had gleaned much from all departments; especially to his professional brothers his mind was a storehouse of useful knowlege, and those of us who sought his advice felt strengthened thereby and better qualified to cope with disease in its various complications and disguises. Much valuable information may now be gained from the writing he has left upon various medical subjects. As a christian; he believed it was not hard to make the voyage of life, nor difficult to reach the heaven of repose if trust in God prevails. Hence, although frequently called to pass through great affliction, he never failed in the performance of religious duty and was ever ready to direct the sick and dying to the home of the blest. In the death of Dr. Perkins, the medical profession lost a safe and experienced counsellor; the community at large, a faithful and trusty friend, and a loving wife and children were deprived of their best earthly guide.

J. SANFORD, M. D.

Castleton, Nov. 15, 1876.

DR. JOSEPH A. GALLUP.

Joadam or Joseph A. Gallup was the son of William Gallup and Lucy Denison, and was born March 30, 1769, in Stonington, Conn. The family moved from Connecticut to Vermont in 1775 and settled in the present town of Hartland.

Joseph A. Gallup graduated at the Medical School, Hanover, N. H., in 1798. Was established in business, afterwards, for awhile in Bethel, Vt., but closed his business in that town in the fall of 1799, and moved to Woodstock, Vt., where he purchased the shop lately occupied by Dr. Abraham Hodge and pursued the business of selling drugs and medicines, together with an assortment of books, and began the practice of Physic and Surgery in this community, February 1, 1800.

For the next twenty-five or thirty years, while engaged in his regular profession, Dr. Gallup branched out in other directions, speculating in lands some, and dipping into trade and traffic quite extensively in connection with E. S. Hayden, L. F. Gallup and others.

In 1823 he was appointed Professor of the theory and practice of medicine in the Castleton Medical School (and, I believe, was president of that institution awhile, but cannot speak definitely about these points)

In 1827 Dr Gallup founded the Medical School in Woodstock, Vt. The introductory lecture was read by him in the hall of the Eagle Hotel, and in that room he continued to lecture for two years, giving in the meantime nearly all the instruction furnished in the school. In 1829 the school was removed to the brick building at the foot of the hill or on Church street, now the dwelling house of Nathan T. Churchill. In that year Dr. Palmer came to Woodstock to reside, and assumed the duties of Professor of Chemistry in the school. Not long after this time, Dr. Gallup's connection with the Medical School closed.

In 1835 he went to Boston to reside, but did not stay there long. He died at Woodstock, October 12, 1849, and is buried in Hartland.

DR. JOHN POMEROY.

Dr. John Pomeroy was born in Old Middleboro, Mass., on the 9th day of April, 1764. He was the eldest of three children, and from the limited means of his parents, and an affliction which deprived his father of the ordinary exercise of his rational powers, he was left almost wholly dependent upon his own resources for an education, and had no other advantage but such as the common schools of that day, and the occasional assistance of the clergyman of the parish afforded. At the age of sixteen years he enlisted as a soldier in the army of the revolution in the three months service, and served as such, principally at West Point. After his early campaign as a soldier, he was variously employed in agricultural labor, devoting all his spare time to the acquisition of knowledge until he became a student in the office of Dr. Bradish, in Cummington, Mass., where with some work and less play he pursued with ardor the study of the profession to which he had long directed his thoughts. The opportunities for acquiring a medical education at that place were, of course, quite limited, but with such a preceptor were well calculated to train the student to independence of thought, common sense, practical views and fearless devotion to duty. After accomplishing his professional education, Dr. Pomeroy, on the 19th of January, 1789, married Miss Mary Porter of Cummington, late of Abington, Mass., and falling in with the tide of emigration, which at that time set to the Lamoille and Onion River vallies in Vermont, he established himself at Cambridge, on the Lamoille, where, though he had attained an extensive practice, he soon found that he had not made the most advantageous location. In the Spring of 1792, he removed to Burlington, where with his wife and three children, he resided, until the Winter, in a log cabin, when he removed to a house on Water Street, on the site of which in 1797, he built the first brick house in the town. In this house he resided until his death, which occurred on the 19th of February, 1844, at the age of nearly 80 years. Dr. Pomeroy was a man of robust constitution and great energy of character, but a long and laborious practice in a new country, at last produced its effects in a nervous prostration, and for nearly five years previous to his decease, made him a patient and confined him to his house. In the death of his eldest son, Dr. Cassius F Pomeroy, (who died in the spring of 1813, just as he had entered upon the practice of his profession, full of hope and promise, after a winter spent at the medical school of Philadelphia,) he experienced a shock, the traces of which years did not efface. Dr. Pomeroy was for many years a member of the corporation of the University of Vermont, an institution which he was among the most active and liberal in fostering. He was also many years a Professor of Anatomy and Surgery in the University, and as such delivered several courses of lectures. He was one of the founders and a member of the Chittenden County and State Medical Societies, and at various times held their highest offices. He was also honorary member of the New York Medical Society. Dr. Pomeroy was always attached to his profession, and thought, conversed and wrote much about it His manuscript lectures, dissertations, cases and theories would make volumes, probably well worth publishing, if pruned and arranged by the hand of a discriminating and patient member of the profession; for although he wrote a fine hand and had the command of good language, his writings lack that logical arrangement so essential in interesting us in the presentation of thoughts however original or important. Few men have lived to accomplish a more laborious and successful practice as a physician and surgeon than Dr. Pomeroy. For upwards of fifty years (commencing in a new country,) he was actively and extensively engaged in his professional duties, and for the greater portion of the time he was the leading physician and only surgeon in the northern part of the State.

A history of the surgical cases alone would form a volume, which while it would surprise by its number and variety, would no less interest by the exhibition of decision, skill, ingenuity and simplicity in the mode of treatment. His practice was characterized by simplicity, boldness and originality. In a case of white swelling in the knee-joint, the Doctor, regardless of the doctrine or dogma of the time that no opening of the joint and consequent discharge of the synovia, could be tolerated, opened the swelling and discharged a large quantity, and all of the fluid in the joint, with dozens of secretions in the form and apperance of small white beans—and the patient recovered the full use of his limb.

In his early practice, in 1797, his youngest son, about five years of age, was taken violently sick and deranged on returning home in the heat of mid-summer, after a long exposure to the sun, without a hat, which he eschewed, and among the first measures of relief resorted to was the wrapping the little sufferer in the skin of a sheep, quickly slain for that purpose—skin to skin. The relief was but temporary, and a long and doubtful struggle ensued, hope had fled, when a purple spot was seen on the corner of the lower lip of the patient. No time was lost in the extirpation, with the scalpel, of the mortified part of the lip. And, subsequently, an exfoliated portion of the lower and of the upper jaw were removed, on which had stood seven teeth And the patient survives to this day with no other reminder of that terrible sickness but a bad scar.

On visiting a patient, who was represented to be dying, he found that the man had ceased to breathe, and was apparently lifeless. Surmising the true state of the case, he, at once, to the consternation of the attendant, with a lancet or scalpel, opened the trachea, and inserted a tube. In a few minutes, after a convulsive struggle, the patient breathed through the orifice and so continued until the obstruction was removed, and lived to thank the surgeon for cutting his throat.

Dr. Pomeroy was exceedingly tender of his patients, deeming it his duty as a man and physician to relieve pain in all cases not inconsistent with the remedy He was equally regardless of popular prejudices and the dogmas of the schools, was a man of ardent temperament, a christian of strong, devotional feelings, and liberal sentiments, a lover of nature, of truth and of peace.

DR. THEODORE WOODWARD.

Dr. Theodore Woodward, to whose efforts and those of Dr. Selah Gridley, Vermont owes its first medical school, was born in the year 1788, and had not the advantages of an academic education. In early life he evinced a decided preference for the medical profession and entered the office of Dr. Nathan Smith, with whom he remained until he graduated at Dartmouth College in his 22d year. He settled in Castleton Vermont, and in March 1818, with Dr. Gridley, John L. Cazier, opened the Castleton Medical Academy, and delivered the first course of lectures. Dr. Woodward was, upon the school being chartered by the Legislature,

October 29, 1818, elected one of the Corporation and in the following year was elected its Secretary and Treasurer, a position he filled with great honor to himself and benefit to the school. He was also Professor of Surgery and Obstetrics until he resigned in 1839. In 1823 he was also elected Registrar of the Faculty, a position he retained until 1839, when he dissolved his connection with the school. During his entire connection wi h the school, he was always punctual at his hour, and the students ever found in him a safe adviser and a staunch friend. He did the principal portion of the surgery in the region about Castleton, and was a skilful and conservative operator. To his brother practitioners he was always courteous and obliging, and in consultation was ever generous, always sustaining young practitioners, still not neglecting his duty to the patient. He had two sons in the profession, Dr. R. C. M. Woodward, late of St. Albans, and Dr A. T. Woodward now at Brandon, and one grand son Dr. George Woodward of Johnson. Dr. Woodward died in Brattleboro, Vt. Oct. 10, 1840.

PATENT

NURSING BOTTLE.

The most Perfect and Convenient,

HEALTHFUL AND DURABLE

NURSING BOTTLE in the WORLD.

BURR'S PATENT,

Free from all Poisonous Substance.

As an evidence of the fact that we use the purest and best materials in manufacturing our NURSING BOTTLES, please read Prof. Hayes' analysis of the WHITE RUBBER NIPPLES and TUBING made expressly for us. He says:—

"I have analyzed the White Rubber Tubing and Nipples manufactured for Burr's Patent Nursing Bottles, and find that they are ENTIRELY HARMLESS when taken into the mouth, or used in connection with these Bottles. These tubes and nipples do not contain LEAD, and it is IMPOSSIBLE to extract any injurious substance from them by any ordinary usage.

Respectfully, S. DANA HAYES,
State Assayer and Chemist.

PERFECTION IN THE MOUTH-GUARD.

It is a serious objection to the MOUTH-GUARDS of ordinary bottles that, being separate, they must be forced on to the tube over the nipple, and then twisted around to adjust them firmly—which chafes and wears out the rubber nipples, and speedily necessitates the purchase of new ones.

The Burr Patent obviates this inconvenience and expense by means of its "admirably combined Mouth-Guard, Nipple and Tube Connector," constructed of one piece of wood.

We supply Druggists with all parts of the Bottle, separately to replenish when required, including Burr's Silvered Wire Tube Brush, which is of inestimable value to the infant as it keeps the tube perfectly sweet and free from acid; also our Bottle brush, Seamless Rubber Tubing, &c.

CAUTION TO MOTHERS AND NURSES.

In purceasing our Nursing Bottle and Tubes complete, see that our patent stamps are on the mouth-guard and stopper, and that the words "BURR'S Patent Nursing Bottle" are blown in the glass Bottle.

All persons are WARNED AGAINST MANUFACTURING, SELLING or USING ANY ARTICLE INFRINGING our patents, as all infringments will be prosecuted as the law provides

WALSH'S

PHYSICIANS' COMBINED CALL-BOOK AND TABLET.

This book is superior to any Physician's Visiting List heretofore published. All others have been thick and short, making too much bulk for the pocket, and failing to properly hold bills and prescription blanks. The Call Book has none of these bad features. It is the most convenient form for the pocket, and bills can be placed in it without folding their ends. It is bound in leather, is seven and three-quarters of an inch long, four wide, but three-eighths thick, and is interleaved. The plan of the book makes it good for any year, or any time in the year, and it need not be thrown aside until filled. It enables the physician to write the name, address, and number of visits paid each patient per week on one page and line. It accommodates thirty-five patients per week, or by using additional pages, as many more as may be desired. A most convenient and novel feature is an ERASABLE TABLET bound on the inside of the front cover, upon which memoranda may be written. It contains more valuable matter for reference than any other. See Table of Contents below.

CONTENTS.

Erasable Tablet upon inside of front cover. Calendar. Sign Table. Table of Drops to the Fluid Drachm. Graduated Table for Administering Laudanum. Table for Regulating Doses of Medicine for Children. ESTABLISHED THIRTY YEARS : 1847—1877.

Choose your Medical Literature for 1877. Subscriptions for 1877 begin at once. Notice our Premiums.

The following three standard publications should be in the office of every physician in the United States ; they will pay him well :—

(1.) THE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL REPORTER,

Published every week, 20—24 pages in each issue.

(2.) The Half-Yearly Compendium of Medical Science,

Published January 1st and July 1st, 300 pages in each issue.

(3.) The Physician's Daily Pocket Record and Visiting List.

New Revised Edition for 1877, for 35 and 70 Patients, with self-closing Clasp and Perpetual Almanac.

The REPORTER is believed to have the largest circulation of any Medical Journal in America. Its contributors include many of the leading medical teachers, authors and distinguished practitioners of this country. It is wholly independent, and devotes its attention, mainly, to practical medicine (in the departments of Diagnosis and Therapeutics), thus rendering it especially suitable for the Country Physician. A special feature are its Hospital and Clinical Reports, from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Boston, furnished by competent medical writers, especially for this journal. In the matter of Medical News, Societies, etc., it is confessedly alive and ahead. Its Translations are numerous and well selected.

The COMPENDIUM is a review of the advances in both theoretical and practical medicine every six months. It takes in the whole field of the Science—Anatomy, Physiology, Pharmacy State and Sanitary Medicine, Gynæcology, Pædiatrics, Surgery in all its branches, etc. All foreign journals are laid under tribute for it, while it alone, of all the similar epitomes, does anything like justice to American authors.

N. B.—It is especially designed to be taken along wsth the REPORTER, and therefore the same article never appears in both journals The one is supplementary to the other ; this is a most important feature, and must not be lost sight of.

The POCKET RECORD is a Physician's Visiting List, and with many features superior to any other in the market. These are briefly,(1) a self-closing steel spring clasp (never tearing, as tucks do). (2.) A Perpetual Calendar, by which it is rendered at all seasons good for one year from da e. (3.) Its convenient size, fitting the pocket at all times (4.) Its price-lists, revised each year. (5.) Its posological and toxicological memoranda. (6.) Its metrical tables. The new edition contains full directions for writing prescriptions by the new metrical measures.
